Warren Easton students raise money for Haiti with "Donate to Dress Down"

Black and Gold Fridays

Student effort has earned over $2,600 so far

WHEN: Friday, February 5, 8:30 am-3pm

WHO: Warren Easton High School students and faculty

WHAT: Warren Easton students are raising funds to help the victims of Haiti's devastating earthquake by selling "Donate to Dress Down" passes to students and teachers ($2 students, $5 faculty). This Friday will be a "Black and Gold" Friday in honor of the New Orleans Saints.

WHERE: Warren Easton High School, 3019 Canal Bvd., (504) 324-7400

WHY: The Easton students are working with Rotary of New Orleans in their Relief for Haiti initiative. Easton has had two "Donate to Dress Down" Fridays: the first Friday collected $2,000 for Haitian relief, and the second Friday, $635. Due to the Superbowl on the following Sunday, this Friday's "Black and Gold" dress down day is expected to be the biggest yet!

If you would like to visit Easton for this "Donate to Dress Down" Black and Gold Friday, please call Patty Payne at (504) 504-324-7423 or cell 504-330-2284.
