Description of Focus: In 1994, almost 6,000 students entered ninth grade in New Orleans Public Schools. Almost all of those students were African-American and close to 100% received free or reduced-price lunch. Ten years later, only 270 of those students had earned a bachelor's degree from college. This is unacceptable.

KIPP New Orleans Schools is looking for excellent teachers to help reverse this trend. As the organization grows to 12 schools serving over 5,000 students, we expect that over 1,000 KIPP alumni will be college graduates by 2022.

KIPP New Orleans Schools is a fast-growing network of open-enrollment, public, college-preparatory schools. The mission of KIPP New Orleans Schools is to create an influential network of public schools that gives students the knowledge and skills necessary to succeed in competitive high schools, colleges and the world beyond. KIPP New Orleans Schools currently operates five schools in the Recovery School District serving over 1,000 students from grades Pre-Kindergarten to eight.

To be successful: KIPP Teachers believe all students deserve a chance at college. KIPP Teachers are willing to do whatever it takes to get them there. KIPP Teachers are constantly learning and growing so students can.

Our teachers share a commitment to empowering students with the knowledge and skills they need to make it to and through college. We are a devoted team of professionals who push each other and our students to achieve at high levels.

KIPP New Orleans Schools is looking for dynamic teachers for the 2009-2010 school year to teach across all grade levels, pre-K through 8. Through the application process, applicants will have an opportunity to state their teaching preferences in regards to grade level and subject area.

Responsibilities:

- Create and foster a positive learning environment
